

Judge Frankie Moore Self-Represented Litigant Access and Innovation Award

The Nebraska Supreme Court's Access to Justice Commission is seeking nominees for the Judge Frankie Moore Self-Represented Litigant Access and Innovation Award to be presented at the 2026 Access to Justice Summit in October. Nominations should be submitted on or before September 9, 2026.

This award recognizes an individual or organization that has demonstrated exceptional innovation in improving access to justice for self-represented litigants (SRLs). It honors creative, practical, and impactful approaches that reduce barriers, enhance understanding of court processes, and make the justice system more navigable and equitable for those without legal representation.

Recipients of this award have developed or implemented solutions - such as technology tools, programs, partnerships, or process improvements - that meaningfully support SRLs in accessing court services, information, and fair outcomes. Emphasis is placed on initiatives that are user-centered, scalable, and demonstrate measurable or observable positive impact.

This award celebrates those who are building on what works, reimagining traditional approaches, and advancing a more accessible and responsive justice system for all.

Nominee Information

Name (First Name, Last Name)

Address

Phone number

Email

Nominator Information

Name (First Name, Last Name)

Address

Phone number

Email

Please briefly describe the activities and contributions which qualify this individual or organization for this award:

Please include any other information you wish to be considered:

Please return this form on or before September 9, 2026,
to:

Amanda Docter, Access to Justice Specialist
Administrative Office of the Courts and Probation
PO Box 98910
Lincoln, NE 68509-8910
amanda.docter@nejudicial.gov